Traction Type / Electrification:

Trains and trams can be operated by electric, diesel or steam power.
The method of electric operation is illustrated by the colour of the shading in the station dots

Trams Trains

ELECTRIC (white station markers)
These could be 1500V DC, 25kV AC or Solar Batteries for trains, 600V or 750V DC for trams

DIESEL (Yellow station markers)
Trains or trams are powered by diesel-electric, diesel-hydraulic or diesel mechanical engines

STEAM (Grey station markers)
Trains are normally hauled by heritage steam locomotives (diesels may sometimes be used)

HORSE DRAWN trams (Blue station markers)

How do I pay my fare? Do I need to Book in advance?

Symbols within the station markers indicate how you pay for travel to and from that station

Trams Trains

- A plain (unfilled) circle means you can use the local stored-value transport Smartcard to travel between these stations. Simply Tap on and Tap off each trip to pay your fare.
  - Opal card (Sydney, Newcastle, Hunter, Wollongong, Blue Mountains, NSW Southern Highlands)
  - myki card (Melbourne and central Victoria including Geelong, Ballarat, Bendigo, Seymour, Traralgon)
  - GoCard (Brisbane, Gold Coast and South-East Queensland)
  - Metrocard (Adelaide and suburbs)
  - MyWay (Canberra and the ACT)
  - SmartRider card (Perth and suburbs)
- Tickets are available on board. Just board your train or tram and staff will sell you a ticket.
- You must purchase a ticket before travelling. This can be done online, by phone or at the station or stop immediately before traveling. Seating is not always reserved, though in some cases it may be optional.
- Advance bookings and seat reservations are ESSENTIAL Book online or by phone before you travel.
- You cannot travel to or from these stations. These are normally intermediate stopovers or turnaround points for heritage or tourist services.

Travel entirely between tram stops with green ticks is FREE. Simply get on board, no ticket is required. Note that your ENTIRE journey must remain in the free area otherwise a fare must be paid.
